Two men were talking together. The first challenged the other, "If you are so religious, let's hear you quote the Lord's Prayer. I bet you $10.00 you can't." The second responded, "Now I lay my down to sleep, I pray the Lord my soul to keep. And If I die before I wake, I pray the Lord my soul to take." The first pulled out his wallet and fished out a ten-dollar bill, muttering, "I didn't think you could do it!"

The High Price of Vice

Benjamin Franklin once observed, "What maintains one vice would bring up two children."

As expensive as children are, vices cost more. Sadly, many children go without the food and clothing they need, because they have a father or mother who spends the money needed for these things on alcohol, gambling, drugs, and other vices.

The wise man Solomon declared, "For the drunkard and the glutton shall come to poverty: and drowsiness shall clothe a man with rags" (Proverbs 23:21). He further declared, "He that loveth pleasure shall be a poor man: he that loveth wine and oil shall not be rich" (Proverbs 21:17).

Let's realize the evils of these things and avoid them for the good of our families. Furthermore, let's try to help those who are caught in these problems.

THE SUNRISE

This morning's sunrise was an awesome sight, just one little reminder among a countless number of God's majesty and power. God's hand in nature is a comfort to us, but that He works such in splendor and beauty are benevolent extras from His gracious nature. Noah's rainbow was a covenant and sign, but the sunrise is one of many natural phenomena that God has applied to the appearance, work, or nature of His Son. In Luke one, the Holy Spirit through the writer reveals Zacharias' prophesy about John's work as the harbinger of a Messiah who was about to appear to their generation. In part, Zacharias says, "For you will go on before the Lord to prepare His ways; to give to His people the knowledge of salvation by the forgiveness of their sins, because of the tender mercy of our God, with which the Sunrise from on high will visit us, to shine upon those who sit in darkness and the shadow of death, to guide our feet into the way of peace" (1:76b-79). Of ten New Testament occurrences, only here is anatole translated "dayspring" or "sunrise." The other nine occurrences, found in either Matthew, Luke, or Revelation, render it "east" (the place from which the sun rises each day).

Zacharias had not been able to speak since encountering the angel while performing his priestly duties in the temple (Luke 1:10). His mouth had been shut since the time Gabriel had told him that the son he had just learned he and Elizabeth would bear would be the forerunner of Jesus (Luke 1:19). Zacharias did not believe the revelation Gabriel gave to be true, and for this his lips were sealed until Elizabeth gave untimely birth. Zacharias was instructed to call their newborn "John" rather than name him after himself. That day, his lips were loosed and he prophesied about both John and Jesus.

Zacharias proclaimed Jesus "the Sunrise." Why? Jesus would pay mankind a visit, appearing as the sun that starts a brand new day. He would illuminate (cf. John 8:12), the way the morning sun dispels and chases away the darkness. He would bring peace, the way the coming of the day often chases away the fears and insecurities of the night. No more beautiful sunrise ever appeared than He who appeared in Bethlehem 2000 years ago. He brought endless peace and offers endless hope. Nothing is more beautiful!
